Lowdow, Dec. 15.—The Sunday Observer which is a laberel newspaper and usually well informed, hee published a startifug-ram talling of overtures made by Mr. Bleaktone to the Percellites. The story in pleasably written but there is nothing in it. Mr. Tkomas Paver O'Connor, who is unloubledly the cheif of the Parcellites, now in London, said that the story wes untrue. He said that he had not been appreached by any friend of Mr. Gledstone or by ony Liberal minary and he had every reason to teleises that Mr. Parnell had received who there a majority of the Liberal basders would be inclined to bid for Mr. Parnell's support until they felt their own attength in the new parlament. PLYMOUTH, ENGLAND, was recently visited by a fire that often finds its counterpart in this country. A tenement house burned ania a number of lives were lost for the reason that no adequate freeceapes had been provided. Numbers of the tenants were compelled to jump from upper sories, the crowds standing by powerless to render any assistance. Many pitful sights were witnessed as life after like was offered up to man's greed in not providing sufficient means of secape.

The Great Revival—Close of the Meeting.

Mr. Habe received a telegram yeaterday telling him thet him web was ill, and that he must come home lumediately. So he was compelled to close the meeting last night and leave on the first beat.

Thus ended the most remarkable revival was half in this city marks and the solutions. is to high and leave on the first beat.
Thus ended the most remarkable revival ever held in this city, perhaps, certainly the greatest ever held in the Baptist Church fore. There weeks ago Mr. Hale came here a perfect stranger and preached his first serious to a small congregation in the Baptist Church. In three nights the audience had overflowed the little church, and the meeting was moved to the court house, which was filled from the start. From this time to the close, the interest never waned but increased, and the last week the court house was uncomfortably crowded, while many were turned away every night unable to find even standing room. There were twenty-one accessions Sunday and fifteen last night, making thirty-six in the last two days of the meeting, while many others are deeply inverested upon the subject. Could Mr. Hale have remained a few days longer this meeting would have doubtless gone on record a the greatest revival ever held in Kentucky in the same length of time. As it is there were none hundred all the properties would have doubtless gone on record at the greatest revival ever held in Kentucky in the same length of time. Mr. Haie is not a great orator and there was not the slightest excitement or sensationalism in the entire meeting. He is a plain, unassuming young man, whose power seems to lie in his intense caracterises, his plain, simple way of stating the truth as he believes it, and his rellance on the Bibb as the word of God.
